OFFICE DEPOT, INC. TO TRANSFER STOCK LISTING TO THE NASDAQ GLOBAL SELECT MARKET

Boca Raton, Fla., September 15, 2014 – Office Depot, Inc. (“Office Depot” or the “company”) (NYSE: ODP), a leading global provider of office products, services and solutions formed by the merger of Office Depot and OfficeMax Incorporated, today announced that it has chosen to transfer the listing of its common stock from the New York Stock Exchange (the “NYSE”) to The NASDAQ Global Select Market (“NASDAQ”). The company expects its common stock to cease trading on the NYSE effective at the close of business on September 25, 2014, and to commence trading on NASDAQ on September 26, 2014, when the market opens. The company will retain its current ticker symbol “ODP” when trading begins on NASDAQ.

“We are pleased to partner with NASDAQ as our new stock market listing. We believe NASDAQ will provide an ideal trading platform for Office Depot and cost effective access to a portfolio of tools and services to reach investors,” said Stephen Hare, Office Depot’s executive vice president and chief financial officer. “While we are looking forward to our new relationship with NASDAQ, the NYSE was our listing home for many years, and they have served us well over that time.”

“We are proud to welcome Office Depot to the NASDAQ family,” said Bob McCooey, senior vice president of the Corporate Client Group at NASDAQ OMX. “Office Depot provides workplace supply products and solutions to customers around the world and is a leader in its industry. We look forward to a long and successful partnership.”
